

“Educator and gatekeeper, complimentary or contradictory: exploring dilemmas which arise in supervision”

Thursday, 4th July, 2024 : 10am – 4pm

Facilitated by Dr Terri Gallagher (Clinical Psychologist and Group Analyst) this workshop aims to advance existing supervisory skills by addressing some of the dilemmas inherent, and encountered, in supervision (with both trainees and other staff). This is particularly pertinent to clinical training where tensions can emerge between the functions of creating a reflective/learning culture and evaluation of competencies. However, such dilemmas are also inherent in those who have combined supervisory and managerial roles. The workshop will explore how to navigate these and other transactions of supervision which can present dilemmas. Learning outcomes for the day include increased awareness, knowledge and skills in thinking about and working through these dilemmas.

To express your interest please click here by 26th April 2024 and complete your details, confirmation of allocated places will be emailed by 9th May 2024.

This event is open to those who have supervised clinical psychology trainees on the Doctorate in Clinical Psychology Programme. Maximum 30 attendees. The event will take place on 4th July 2024 at Queen's University Belfast. It will start at 10am and finish at 4pm. Catering will be provided.